Be it as goalkeeper or striker, the new 'HyperMotion Technology' in FIFA 22 perfectly captures the player's movements on the pitch so you can relive the action while playing. By tapping, swiping or dragging your right mouse button, you can guide your players on the pitch, including goalkeeper, fullbacks, midfielders, forwards and more. A new two-player mode allows you to compete for a single possession of the ball. In two-on-two mode, try to score a goal with your team-mate or defend your own goal to win the possession. In training mode, you can play with the CPU or other teammates, perfecting your skills to use the tool. For more information on "HyperMotion Technology" and other new features, watch the FIFA 22 reveal video. Player development The Player Development features will also return to FIFA 22. With the new "Training Hub," you can now choose your skill development mode: FIFA Training, FUT Academy, FUT 18, FUT Master League, or the newly introduced FUT Curves. Also included is FUT Draft, which allows you to build your own custom team. Other new features New Managers Mode A new Managers Mode allows you to play matches or go through a full season with a single team and manage up to 40 players from the Bench. New Teammate Interactions New teammate interactions offer players more control over their teammates, including the option to create an equipment line for up to three teammates (including the CPU). Touchscreen Controls All touchscreen controls (including touchscreen menus) have been redesigned for easier use. Play on the big screen When connected to the PlayStation 4 Pro and Xbox One X (see the official list of system requirements for more), FIFA 22 is the first console game that can be played in UHD at a full 60 frames per second (fps). Play all-new Episodes Each new episode will have three scenarios: Attack, Defence or Keep. Players can play each scenario against the CPU or against one another. Players also can use Episodes as a ladder for their Training Hub, collecting star points for best results. New Online Matchmaking FIFA 22 adds a new online matchmaking feature that allows you to play against friends or random opponents. The gameplay is set to be based on Season Ticket play

What's new:

- New Passes: Control the flow of the game, in a brand new camera view. Move the ball like a real football player.
- Head-to-Head Review: How do you like your opponents in FIFA? Use the improved Face of the Player and Head Trainer to get a better idea of your opposition. Heads-up displays in the broadcast area, the new character ratings ratings and the new 'Confidence Meter' help to show who will have the advantage on the pitch.
- New Dribble Skills: make your opponents work for their goal with new dribble skills, including Moves, Cuts, Slips and Winks. Have an increased sense of anticipation in the attacking third of the pitch, as with the Bounce Pass you can negate your opponents timing. In FIFA 22, as you add the Move to your skills, your opponent will have to read your next move.
- New AI: Even in-game AI will be more reactive. Opponents will anticipate where you are going to pass the ball, go after it and intercept your next pass or take it themselves. When you pass the ball with a low skill rating, the AI is quicker to react.
- AI: When your opponent crosses the ball, the run and intensity of the tackles will be automatically adjusted.
- FIFA Football Simulation*: In FIFA Football Simulation, you can take possession and control the ball over all game modes. Select the camera and field position from over 30 viewing angles to show and enable all the action. This is how it's done in real life, this is a football simulation, customisable by you.
