Tagalog Bishop Oscar Carreon of San Jose de Antique, Bulacan recently bagged a rare honour for his church — recognition by the Abadang (abbot) of the Philippine Catholic Church as the titular leader of the Diocese of San Jose de Antique. As stated in his blog, he wrote: "Diocese of San Jose de Antique, Bulacan for me, an ordinary Filipino, is a big school of faith and learning, a repository of spiritual riches and abundant blessings, a banquet hall for friends and a haven for prayers. I am a proud member of this family." He won the nod after a nationwide voting among all the dioceses in the country for the post of titular bishop of the last remaining Antique Diocese. "I'm honoured by this proposal. I thank the Apostolic Administrator, the Catholic Church in the Philippines, the Most Reverend Most Reverend Archbishop Jaime Sin, the Consistory for the Diocese of San Jose de Antique, Bulacan and the Filipino Bishops for the recognition and the decision to admit me in this post. "This is a compliment for me as a Filipino because it's a historical event which is unlikely to ever be repeated in the history of this Nation. All the Filipino priests are still anointed, consecrated, and appointed and ordained by our Almighty God," said Bishop Carreon. "As a titular bishop in the Philippines, I will be the representative of Jesus Christ. I promise to work towards the greater glory of God. I hope and pray that the Lord will guide me in leading my 1cdb36666
